SHELLS FALL AMONG FOREIGN RESIDENTS AS CHINESE BOMBARD

CREW OF VESSEL MUTINIES AND OPENS FIRE ON GOVERNMENT SHIPS.

Arsenal is Shelled—Authorities Take Prompt Action—Fire of Rebels is Returned and Many Explosives Fall in Foreign Quarter—Uprising Seems Prearranged.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 6.—The crew of the Chinese cruiser Chao-ho mutinied last night and opened fire on two other warships and the arsenal. The fire was returned, the engagement lasting an hour. Several shots fell in the foreign concessions.

Apparently the outbreak has been confined to Chao-ho. The Chinese authorities announce that she will be shelled and sunk at daybreak.

Mutiny Seems Prearranged. Conflicting accounts of the nature of the outbreak are current, and owing to strict measures taken by the authorities it has been impossible thus far to obtain official information. It appears, however, that at 2 p. m. Sunday, 20 men set forth from the foreign settlement in a launch and went alongside the Chao-ho, which is lying opposite the Kian-Nan arsenal.

On the arrival of the launch the crew of the Chao-ho mutinied, apparently, by prearrangement. At about 4 o'clock the mutineers opened fire on the arsenal, on the cruiser Hai-Chi and the gunboat Tung-Ching.

The Hai-Chi and Tung-Ching replied, and there was lively cannonading of light and heavy guns for an hour. At least half a dozen three-pound shells fell in the foreign concessions. The city and countryside were thrown into panic.

Watch Kept on Warships. After the firing ceased the Chao-ho remained at anchor, keeping watch on the other warships.

The arsenal authorities notified the senior consul of the foreign settlement that the Chao-ho would be shelled and sunk at daybreak.

Attempts to investigate the outbreak met with only partial success.

WAR UPON PAIN: Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Solater, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared. Four hours after the second application I was as good as new." March, 1915. BROKEN STATUE IS SAVED. Fragments of "Smile of Rheims" Are Pieced Together After Battle.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—The famous statue, the "Smile of Rheims," shattered in the bombardment of Rheims cathedral, has been preserved.

The Societe National des Beaux Arts announced that fragments broken from the figure have been collected and replaced.

Germans Plan Offensive. PARIS, Dec. 4.—The Germans are preparing for a huge offensive around Compeigne, between the Oise and Somme rivers, according to newspaper reports here. Compeigne is 40 miles northeast of Paris. A heavy bombardment, which is believed to prelude a monster infantry engagement, was in progress.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS SICK, CONSTIPATED

BEST FOR LIVER AND BOWELS, BAD BREATH, BAD COLDS, SOUR STOMACH.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines instead of being massed out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanses the stomach, remove the sour, indigestible food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

NO HARM IF OLD NAMES DIE OUT SAYS MRS. BLAIR

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—"Why worry if fine old Quaker and Puritan families are dying out? Mayflower ancestry isn't necessary for Americans." Thus spoke Mrs. John Blair, treasurer of the Equal Franchise Society, and member of one of the oldest of New York's aristocratic families.

Descendants of Philadelphia Quakers and New England Pilgrims have been criticized frequently for permitting the old American stock to die out. The latest critic is Professor E. G. Conklin of Princeton.

Professor Conklin spoke at the convention of the American Association for the prevention of infant mortality, in Philadelphia. He declared that families who have borne presidents in their time die out from deliberate race suicide.

"It is rather snobbish and un-American to consider New England and Philadelphia ancestry necessary for Americans," said Mrs. Blair. "The infusion of new blood makes for democracy."

"There is really no such thing as a pure strain in this country. We are a people of mixed blood. There is no room in a democratic country for race snobbishness. The American Indian is the only one who can lay claim to being a true American."

"It was probably the aristocracy of property which caused the Quakers and Pilgrims to become known as the first families. Other races, other ancestors are quite as good stock. But it is true that more boy babies are born during war times, some of the 'good old names' should be continued for some generations! They will have a splendid opportunity to spread old American ideals."

W. B. BARRETT OF HEPPNER IS CHOSEN TO HEAD WOOLGROWERS

W. B. Barrett, of Heppner, one of the members of the state livestock sanitary board and vice president of the Oregon Woolgrowers' association during the past year, was Saturday afternoon elevated to the presidency of the association without opposition just before the 15th annual convention was brought to a close.

Ernest F. Johnson of Walla Walla was chosen vice president after a warm scrap with Frank Sloan of Stanfield and R. F. Wigglesworth of Heppner. Four ballots were necessary to decide the contest. No other officers were chosen, the others being appointive. President Barrett announced that he would take time to choose a secretary-treasurer but intimated that his choice would not fall to John G. Hoke, the present incumbent, because he thought that the president and secretary should live close to each other.

He named as members of the executive committee the same men who have served during the past year, namely: Jay Dobbin of Joseph; J. N. Burgess of Pendleton; A. N. Ingalls of Keating; D. O. Justus of Heppner, and J. W. Creath of Portland. A vote of thanks was tendered to the secretary for his efficient past services.

Pendleton is praised. In addressing the convention after his election to the presidency, Mr. Barrett paid Pendleton a warm tribute. "Everybody and everything wants to come to Pendleton," he said. "Last year we came over from Heppner and brought with us a man who represented a federal department (W. W. Cryder). He made a speech. This year we came back and found Mr. Cryder again here, but as a citizen of Pendleton. I'm on the Heppner school board and a little while back suggested to our county superintendent that we should prepare an institute. He said: 'we won't have any institute here, we're going to Pendleton,' and darned if he didn't bring every schoolma'am in Morrow county over here. We woke up one morning and found our postoffice had moved half way to the depot and I believe it was on the way to Pendleton. That's the way Pendleton magnetizes things. Well, we all like to come here for this little city is the liveliest and has the most warm-blooded and hospitable people on earth."

The resolutions adopted by the convention also paid Pendleton and her citizens warm praise. The place of the 1914 convention has not yet been named, but Pendleton will send an invitation to return.

Recommendation of a non-partisan tariff board, tariff regulation consistent with the attitude of sheepmen in past years; a pure fabric law for protection of the consumer and repeal of the La Follette seaman act, were included in the resolutions adopted at the close of the convention. It was recommended also that congress appropriate $100,000 for the construction of range improvements, and increase the appropriation for the extermination of predatory animals to $300,000 biennially to check a $15,000,000 annual stock loss.

The resolutions recommended that congress make no immediate changes in the land laws but appropriate to classify unoccupied public domain; that railroads give sheepmen owning adjacent land first opportunity to buy or lease railroad land and that railroads also increase stock handling facilities and watering places, particularly at Montpelier, Idaho, and Laramie, Wyo.

Classification of wool on sheep's back and a thorough system of tagging was also recommended.

Commendation of the Oregon Livestock Sanitary Board, of State Veterinarian Lytle and Dr. Pinkerton, of the bureau of animal industry, were given.
